LATE TELEGRAMS.

The following telegrams, taken from Indian papers, appear in the Straits Times—

ALEXANDRIA, 7th July.
The false prophet in the Sudan has again defeated the Egyptian troops with enormous loss, and is now marching on Senaar.

ALAHABAD, 12th July.
A telegram has been received here giving details of the bombardment. The firing on the part of the British fleet commenced at 7 o'clock yesterday (Tuesday) morning. The fire was returned at once from the shore, but after 20 minutes two batteries were silenced. At 10 o'clock Forts Marsa and Kanat were blown up. The fire is now said to be slackening. Many guns in the forts have been dismounted, but there is no sign of surrender on the one hand or of damage to the fleet on the other. The Monarch is sweeping the shore. At 11 o'clock the forts were gradually silencing. The Ras-el-Tin forts suffered severely from the fire directed upon them by the Alexandra, Superb and Temeraire. The other ships engaged in the bombardment were the Infatigable, the Penelope, and the Monarch. The great tower of Fort Pharos has been demolished.

The action ended at 6 o'clock in the evening, all the forts firing the sea having been silenced. The British have spiked the guns of Fort Marsa and Ras-el-Tin. The place is ruined, and four forts have been blown up. To-day (Wednesday) the attack was to be resumed in the inner harbour and upon the Marabout forts.

July 13th.
The Pioneer published the following telegram dated London, July 11th, 5.35 p.m.:—"Twelve men belonging to the crew of the Invincible, swim ashore with Lieutenant Halford. They burst two guns and spiked six in Fort Moka unopposed."

The attack was resumed at nine o'clock yesterday (Wednesday) morning, but was stopped at eleven owing to the haze. The forts along the sea face and the island of Pharos are deserted. The Ras-el-Tin Palace is still burning. During the night the Egyptians repaired the Mosaiciff Fort. The truce proved resultless, Arabi refusing to surrender the forts. Incendiary fires have broken out and pillaging has commenced. The Khedive is unhurt. Austria and Germany have approved of the bombardment.

LONDON, July 13th.
Arabi has withdrawn the Egyptian army which was at Alexandria into the interior. It is unknown where the Khedive is. Alexandria is in flames. All the convicts have been released and have set fire to many buildings. The atrocities committed are reported as frightful. The entire European quarter of the city is destroyed and a hundred Europeans have been massacred; others fought their way to the beach, where they were rescued by ships' boats.

Admiral Seymour refused the request to negotiate until the harbour forts have surrendered. Arabi refused these conditions. Hostilities have not yet recommenced. The Khedive is safe.

The Duke of Connaught has volunteered for Egypt. He will probably command a brigade. Mr. Gladstone has denied that France is estranged.

Arabi's flag of truce was out to be simply a ruse to gain time and enable the Egyptian troops to withdraw from forts which have since been abandoned.

Evening.
The Khedive is at Ramleh Palace, surrounded by soldiers; his position is precarious. Admiral Seymour has landed 600 marines.

The Secretary to the Admiralty, in reply to Sir Stafford Northcote in the House of Commons, said that Admiral Seymour had been instructed to-day not to dismantle the forts or disable the guns, but to endeavour to open communications with the Khedive and invite him to restore order in concert with British troops; at the same time sending a party of men for police purposes and inviting European ships to co-operate.

LONDON, July 14th, Morning.
Alexandria is full of plunderers. The Marines attacked and scattered them, killing seven. Our force is inadequate to hold the city.

Arabi and his army are one hour's march distant.

Noon.
The Arabs are looting the steamer Glenlyon ashore in the Canal. The Vindabla is also aground.

It is believed the Egyptians lost 2,000 men during the bombardment.

The news which was current throughout the press that the Arabs were looting the steamer Glenlyon is utterly false.

Two-thirds of Arabi's army has deserted.

Arabi embarked in a boat on the Alexandria Canal during the bombardment.

It is believed that Arabi's forces are dispersing. The Khedive is at Ras-el-Tin Palace, guarded by 700 Marines, and has also obtained the support of some of the Egyptian troops. Cherif Pacha, being summoned, said he would endeavour to restore order.

The Marines have occupied Fort Napoleon, commanding Alexandria, which is now in utter ruins; the fire is still raging.

The Secretary to the Admiralty, in reply to a question in the Commons, said that gunboats are authorized to escort vessels through the Canal.

Lloyd's state that the traffic through the Canal is stopped.

The Bluejackets occupy the city gates and are ordered to shoot any marauders.

CEYLON, July 14th.

Memo from P. & O. Co. to the Editor Ceylon Observer. Sir,—The following telegram has just reached me from our Superintendent at Bombay:—"A Syria and Aranda left Port Said at 10 p.m. on Wednesday, 12th July, there awaiting Dokhara. Communication satisfactory for the present."

LONDON, July 15th.

Arabi, previous to his departure, ordered the murder of the Khedive and the looting of the city. The Khedive escaped through bribery.

The Channel Squadron at Cyprus, and the Albatross with the siege train, are ordered to Alexandria. The Duke of Connaught will command the Guards' Brigade.

July 16th.

British war vessels are stationed at the entrance of the Suez Canal, ready to advance at a moment's notice, should occasion arise.

The Germans, Americans, and Russians are assisting Admiral Seymour to restore order; the French and Italian Admirals, however, refuse to disembark any men or render any assistance.

The conflagration is dying out and looting has ceased.

Rumours are current that disturbances have broken out in Cairo.

A thousand Marines have left Malta for Alexandria.

The Ambassadors, however, have presented an identical note to the Porte, inviting him to send troops to Egypt.

17th July.

Arabi is at Kalfedowar with a considerable force, but in a demoralized state.

The ironclads Albatross and Northumberland with transports conveying 3,500 men, are near Alexandria.

Cairo is quiet.

The French Government have accepted the invitation of the British Government for a joint protection of the Suez Canal.

Admiral Seymour has issued a Manifesto undertaking to restore order, the Egyptian Government assenting.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17th.

5,800 of the British line and marines have already disembarked. General Alison commands. Arabi is intrenching at Kalfedowar.

The President of the Council of Ministers has disavowed Arabi. The International Tribunal and Post Office have been reopened.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 17th.

The Sultan is disposed to agree to Turkish intervention in Egypt.

The identical note from the Powers limits occupation to three months, the whole expense to be charged to Egypt.

THE ENGLISH CAPTAINS.

THEIR TUSSELS WITH THE INTRICACIES OF YANKEE LAW.

At the opening of the United States District Court yesterday morning, leave was asked to file a criminal information under Section 4253 of the Statutes, against Captain William B. Fenwick of the British steamship Strathgairn, charging him with bringing into this port from Hongkong, on the 21st of last May, 326 passengers more than the law allows. A bench warrant was formally asked for his arrest. But was fixed at $5,000, and the bond filed immediately. Counsel for the defendant consented to allow a plea of guilty to be entered to imputing an excess of 223 passengers. Mr. Van Duer replied that the fine was $50 for each passenger, which, on the Captain's admission, amounted to a fine of $11,150. It had been agreed that a judgment for that amount should be entered, that it might become a lien against the vessel, and an application could be made to the Secretary of the Treasury for the remission of the passengers, the difference between 326 excess charged and 223 admitted. He also waived any right of action in the difference of the passengers and accepted the plea of guilty.

Captain Fenwick thereupon pleaded guilty, waived time and was sentenced by Judge Hoffman to pay a fine of $11,150, a stay of proceedings for thirty days being granted for the present, the Captain's counsel asking for an extension for sixty days, for the purpose of communicating with the Secretary of the Treasury. Two other charges of wrongly constructing the berths in his vessel and incorrectly reporting the number of passengers to the Collector of Customs, are still pending.

To the reporter Mr. Van Duer stated that there is a dispute as to the measurement of the Strathgairn, as ascertained by Henry Hoebner, the Custom-house measurer, and by the consular certificate granted to Captain Fenwick at Hongkong. To get on the safe side of the case and save the Government the expense of a trial, the plea before mentioned was accepted. Section 5292 of the Revised Statutes, however, permits an application to be made to the Secretary of the Treasury for a remission in such cases, who, upon ascertaining that the act was accidentally or inadvertently committed, can make a remission in whole or in part. It would seem, therefore, that the Captain is in no way great danger of having to pay the fine. This matter is to be determined by testimony taken before Judge Hoffman, which will be sent to Washington as a record of the proceedings in the application for a pardon.

A GAME OF POKER.
Captain Roper of the Amur Head has again involved himself in trouble, which is destined to detain him still longer in the "blasted country." The Captain has favored the Collector of the Port with a communication to the effect that one of his crew, a Custom-house Inspector, instead of being on duty and watching the Amur Head, was detected by him on Thursday evening on board and enjoying a quiet little game of poker with the mates, and that, when he was beaten, he had not the gentlemanly instincts to pay up. The Surveyor of the Port has notified Captain Roper and all persons interested in that little game that he will hold an examination in the matter, in all probability, to-day. McLean is an important witness in the habena corpus case of Captain Roper's Chinese darlings; and, indeed, is the mainstay of the Government to prove the lascivious conduct of the darlings while on board. He contends that he was abroad in the role of a prying detective to obtain additional information against the women. Not to be outdone by the Captain, McLean has filed a complaint against Captain Roper for residing a Custom-house employee, the Captain having shown him his station on the upper deck rather unceremoniously.

THE CHINESE WOMEN.
"Here come my darlings," said Captain Roper, waving his hand dramatically in the direction of the two Chinese women of the Amur Head as they came into Court yesterday morning at the time set for the hearing of the habena corpus case. After some cross-fire by counsel it was made patent that the hearing would last longer than a day, and Judge Hoffman, being anxious to leave town again to-day, continued the case until the 19th of next month, at the same time remanding the peris to the care of Captain Roper until that time.

"I like the people of California, but its laws—its laws are damnable," muttered the guardian of the two hours. However, Mr. Van Duer has tacitly consented to dismiss the present writ if the attorney on the other side wishes to obtain a writ returnable before Judge Sawyer, who is expected to arrive to-day.

A measurement was taken of the smallpox ship Albatross yesterday, and it was found that the number of passengers brought by her into port was in accordance with the law. Her steering was found devoid of berths, which were ordered to be burned by the Quarantine Officer.—S. P. Chronicle, July 15.

Commercial.

THIS DAY.

Business in the Share Market has been fairly brisk since yesterday. Banks have changed hands at 130 per cent. premium, for cash, and 133 and 134 for end of September. A number of Docks have been negotiated at 50 for cash, and 51 1/2 for end of the month, with buyers at above rates. China Sugars have risen to 190 per share, business at that figure having been done for cash and end of the month, leaving off with buyers. Chinese Insurances and China Fires are wanted at quotation, holders not caring to sell. Other stocks are firm at undermentioned rates.

4 o'clock p.m.
Banks are still very firm in the market at 130 per cent. premium. Docks have changed hands at 52 for the end of the month. Luzons have been negotiated at an advance of one point for cash, since last quoted, and are standing firm at quotation. No other transactions have come under our notice.
